THE COMSTOCK OUTLOOK.

[Virginia Footlight.]

There has been statements made during the past two months by newspapers, telling of the encouraging prospects on the Comstock, and about men being put to work and other similar reports. Now we would be happy to be able to say that the prospect on the Comstock is flattering, but we cannot, and we believe that it is the duty of all newspapers to state the facts just as they are, as the papers are read by people who have left the Comstock, and, who, being led to a belief by the reports, come back to this place only to loaf around seeking work. To day if a person will only take the trouble to go around to the mines which are in active operation, they will find the works crowded almost with men looking for work; good practical miners, who can do any kind of mining work, they are waiting to see the Superintendent or foreman but their request is not granted simply because there is no work to give to them. Men who are away from the Comstock at present, had better stay away until the times warrant them in coming back and they do not just now, for there are men enough here who are out of employment, to fill all the places that may become vacant for the next six months, unless some big strike takes place, and a man can live as cheap anywhere else as on the Comstock, and he will simply be out of pocket for transportation by coming here at this time. When there is a strike, the Footlight will be one of the first to spread the glad tidings and tell the boys to all come back to the old camp, but at present it would advise them to keep away, for the supply of labor is much greater than the demand and a great many who are now here would leave if they had the means.

Conkling and Blaine.

A Washington correspondent says: A report has been current for several days to the effect that Conkling and Blaine have become friends and allies, that Conkling had made overtures to Blaine promising him the vote of New York in the next National Convention in return for Blaine's support in an effort to return Conkling to the Senate. A near friend of ex-Senator Conkling, a man of national reputation who was with Conkling when he was here recently, is authority for the statement that there is absolutely no truth in the report. The fact is, according to this authority, that Blaine hates Conkling, and Conkling despises Blaine, and that Conkling approves the administration of Arthur, and he wants to see Arthur succeed himself. The only thing he don't like about the present administration is the retention of Robertson in the New York Custom House.

Grant a Presidential Candidate

According to a Washington correspondent, it is thought to be the intention of the friends of General Grant to present his name again for the Presidency. It is quite evident that Gen. Grant has no idea of going into privacy. On the recent North Pacific excursion he was never invisible when a crowd collected, and was always ready to speak when called upon, and on several occasions made two or three speeches in one day, and good ones at that. General Sherman, a short time ago, is reported as saying that Grant had ruined himself by going into politics, but Grant does not look upon it in that light. He is not loth to take a little more ruin of the same sort, if he can get it.

Down at Pioche.

The Record says. Things in general are now pretty quiet throughout the country. There has not been a shooting scrape for nearly two months, and there is now very little cattle stealing being indulged in—owing to the scarcity of cattle we suppose, they having been pretty much all sold and driven away. If there was disruption in family affairs and several bank presidents to "go wrong" we might imagine ourselves as dwelling in the midst of the uncivilized communities of Massachusetts or New Jersey.

The Grand Jury of Eureka county has presented indictments against Commissioners Nathan Smith and Wm. Arrington for willful misconduct and malfeasance in office.

"Boss" Sadler seems to be having a lively time of it at Eureka.

There are three cattle men in this State each worth $1,000,000. Two of them were cattle herders less than twenty years ago, and one of the number signs his name thus: X.—Appeal.

There are 147 inmates in the Reno Insane Asylum, which is an extraordinary number for so small a State as this numerically speaking.—Appeal.

A PRESENTMENT.

Commissioners Smith and Arrington Accused of Malfeasance in Office.

[Eureka Sentinel 17th.]

In a partial report made yesterday the Grand Jury accused County Commissioners Nathan Smith and William Arrington of the offense of willful misconduct in office.

The specifications of the charge, shorn of most of their legal verbiage, are:

In March, 1883, the accused, without authority of law, and willfully and corruptly and with improper motives, and with the knowledge that the same was wrong, etc., without publishing contract as required by law, etc., had built the Court House water-closet at an expense of over $500; that is, $844 or thereabouts.

That they did in April, 1883, allow bills for materials used in said construction, which were paid out of the County Treasury.

Signed by R. SADLER, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

EUGENE R. GARNER, District Attorney of Eureka Co., Nev.

Names of witnesses sworn and examined before the Grand Jury upon the finding of the above accusations: William Arrington, Thomas Dixon, D. H. Hall, Joe Edgerton, William S. Hayward, M. Walsh.

SECOND INDICTMENT.

The specifications of a second indictment against the same accused parties are:

That they did in July, 1883, with corrupt motives and unlawfully (as above detailed) cause to be excavated a certain ditch near the Richmond "slag pile" at an expense to the county of $494.79.

And that certificates of indebtedness against the county were issued on order of the accused in favor of divers persons for said amount of $494.79, when, in truth, the reasonable cost of such work was not more than $150 or thereabouts. Signed as above.

Witnesses examined: William Arrington, Thomas Dixon, D. H. Hall, Marion Farrell, Joe Edgerton, Wm. S. Hayward.

Postal Rates Ninety Years Ago.

Now that the two cent postage law has gone into effect, the following provisions of the first law of Congress on the subject will be read with interest:

February 20, 1792, was the date of the first act fixing rates of postage on domestic letters, and established the following rates, to take effect June 1, 1792:

Act February 20, 1792, Section 9, by land.—For every single letter not exceeding 30 miles, 6 cents.

For every single letter over 30 miles and not exceeding 60 miles, 8 cents.

For every single letter over 60 miles and not exceeding 100 miles, 10 cents.

For every single letter over 100 miles and not exceeding 150 miles, 12½ cents.

For every single letter over 150 miles and not exceeding 200 miles, 15 cents.

For every single letter over 200 miles and not exceeding 250 miles, 17 cents.

For every single letter over 250 miles and not exceeding 350 miles, 20 cents.

For every single letter over 350 miles and not exceeding 450 miles, 22 cents.

For every single letter over 450 miles, 25 cents.

For every double letter, double the said rates.

For every triple letter, triple the said rates.

For every packet weighing one ounce avoirdupois, to pay at the rate of four single letters for each ounce, and in that proportion for any greater weight.—Elmira Advertiser.

Leland Stanford.

Western journals report that the last news from Europe represents the condition of Leland Stanford as most precarious, the physicians thinking he has an incurable spinal disease, and that Mrs. Stanford has a disease of the eyes which necessitates her remaining continually in a darkened room. They are both quite old people, and all their gold, says the Salt Lake Tribune, can not buy them respite from suffering, or keep back the signals of the approach of that specter which stalks without ceremony alike into the palaces of the rich and the huts of the poor. The career of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, except in force and energy, gives no idea of Leland Stanford personally. In private life he is one of the truest, kindest and most generous of men, and ten thousand people who hate the ways of the railroad will grieve to learn that Mr. Stanford has probably not long to live.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says Mackay's declaration in favor of Jones' re-election will be sad news for the Hossians in this State.—Reno JOURNAL.

Because Mackay will not be likely to bleed as freely for John P. as he would for John W.—Times Review.

He might be willing to sweat large drops for John H., in preference to John P. or even John W.

LITERATURE.

History of the Pacific States of North America. By Herbert Howe Bancroft. Vol. IV. Mexico—1810-1821. Published and for Sale by A. L. Bancroft &amp; Co.

No historian has ever had equal facilities with our cultured fellow citizen for writing a history of Mexico. In addition to all the standard histories and printed chronicles of the earliest times, and all the works of later and modern writers, this author has in his own rare library the various collections of documents from Spanish and Mexican archives that were consulted in manuscript by Robertson and Prescott, together with thousands additional that were never known by them. He has, among other precious historical papers, a copy in thirty two volumes of the famous Archivo General de Mexico; the autograph originals of Carlos Maria Bustamante's historical writings in about fifty volumes; the original records of the earliest Mexican councils of the church, with many ecclesiastical and missionary chronicles not extant in print; the regular memorias and other departmental reports of the Mexican government; two hundred and eighteen volumes of Mexican partisan writings and political pamphlets, and a rich collection of official periodicals and newspapers. With such unexcelled sources of information at his command, it is assured that his ripe scholarship and intelligent judgment will give us the standard history of Mexico, to last for all coming times. This first volume of the series is a guarantee of that assurance. In explanation of the fact that the present volume is not numbered consecutively with its immediate predecessor, the author says:

It has been deemed advisable, for several reasons, to deviate from the strict numerical order in the publication of the several volumes of this history, and pursue a more chronological course. Thus, instead of continuing the annals of Central America, as presented in the second volume of the series, the fourth volume of the series is next issued, which is the first volume of the history of Mexico. The three succeeding volumes will bring the histories of Mexico and Central America side by side, down to about 1800. These will be followed by several volumes on regions toward the north, for approximately the same period; for example, the earlier volumes on the North Mexican States, California, the Northwest Coast, and Oregon, New Mexico and Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Washington, Idaho and Montana, British Columbia and Alaska, may be issued at any time.

This plan of publication has been adopted, not without careful deliberation. The reasons for such a plan are these. First, the territorial peculiarities of the subject seemed to demand it. There is a natural order in which to present events, an order alike best for the author and for the student. So presented, the work, as a whole constitutes a more continuous and unbroken story, and therefore better holds the attention of the reader. Again, this method gives to the people of the several sections, parts of their own history at much earlier dates than would be possible otherwise. Were the History of the Pacific States, in its several parts, issued strictly as one work, the volumes would be numbered in about the order of their proposed publication; but in that case they would not be so numbered that when completed the volumes of Central America, or of Mexico, or of California, etc., would stand together each as a complete history and separate set. This was regarded as most of all desirable; and in no other way than the one proposed could these ends both be attained.

The first of the five great periods of Mexican history, embracing the aboriginal annals of Anahuac, has been heretofore exhaustively treated in the fifth volume of Mr. Bancroft's "Native Races." The second period covers the conquest by Cortes. The third covers nearly three centuries of vice-regal rule in Spain. The fourth embraces the struggle for independence and the foundation of the republic. The fifth extends to the present time, including internal revolutions, the war with the United States, the Maximilian experiment and the peaceful developments of later years. The record of the last four successive periods is the work which the present volume enters upon. It covers the greater portion of the conquest by Cortes, and is written with all the regard for solid fact of a Hume, the purity of expression of Macaulay and the florid imagination of Prescott. A picture is given us exhibiting on one side the grandest episode in early American annals, from a military point of view, the opening up to the world of the richest, most populous and most civilized country on the northern continent; and on the other hand the continuation of the bloody path which marked the destruction of thousands of unoffending people, and of a fair and hopeful culture. The history of this interesting region covers a century more than the northern nations of America, and it is herein limited to us with a master hand. The forthcoming volumes of the series will be awaited with interest much enhanced by the reading of the book now in hand.

The JOURNAL says that Washoe county is liable to need a State Prison of its own, as there are from seventeen to twenty prisoners in the County jail nearly all the time. From the efforts made by Renicots to remove to their town the prison at Carson, we should infer that the "used" has existed for several years.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

In Bombay, India, there is said to be nearly ten thousand cases of leprosy under treatment.

There will be refreshments served after the close of the Congregational musicale at Kimball's Hall to-night.

Mrs. J. C. Brown, of Surprise Valley, took the train yesterday morning for New York where she will spend the winter.

District Attorney Alexander, in company with Senator Marker, will leave this morning for Eagle Lake, to be gone a week or ten days.

Prof. Foster was too unwell yesterday to attend to his duties in the school and his place was temporarily supplied by Mr. Summerfield.

Holesworth and Fulmer, the lessees of Kimball Hall, propose continuing their regular weekly social dances during the Fall and Winter. Their next party will be given next Monday evening. Fulmer string band furnishing the music.

Sunderland to the Front.

John Sunderland has opened his Fall and Winter stock of men's and boy's boots and shoes, ladies' misses' and children's shoes, hats and caps etc. His stock has been selected with special reference to this market, and presents the most complete assortment of everything in that line in the State. He will sell his goods twenty-five per cent. cheaper than any other house in the State. He can well afford to do so, as he has concluded contracts with some of the largest boot and shoe houses in the country to sell their goods on commission, for cash, thereby being enabled to sell all such goods at invoice prices and save to purchasers the profit of middlemen. He has also on hand a large assortment of Summer goods, consisting of men's and boy's boots and shoes, ladies' and children's shoes and slippers of all descriptions; all of which will be sold at less than regular prices, as he desires to clear the stock. All are invited to examine before purchasing elsewhere. All kinds of custom work and repairing done. See his new advertisement.

Race Horses at the Track.

As an evidence that there will be some good races next week the JOURNAL appends the annexed list of trotters and runners now at the track:

TROTTERS.

Tump Winston, Fred B. Wm. Tel. Belle Spencer, Alonzo Hayward, Fred Arnold, Tyler, Baldy (pacer), Black Charley, Major Mono, Crab, Morgan, Billy Graham, May Queen.

RUNNERS.

Rula Riggs, Up-and-Up, Harry B. Jubilee, Nick of the Woods, Billy the Kid, Johnson, Nell Banta, Ginger, Buckskin, Baldy Green, Snuff Box, Fawn, Overland Pat.

SUGGESTIVE.

That is a suggestive cartoon entitled "Snakes in the Grass," in the last number of the Denver Inter-Ocean. "Uncle Sam is found asleep on his musket, and snakes in the grass near him. The people of the United States asleep, while the polygamous Mormonism is insidiously crawling over the borders of Utah into the adjoining Territories and States. The people asleep, while fattened monopoly is creeping to enclose the sleepers. The people asleep, while political corruptions is squirming at the ballot box."

Confessed His Guilt.

One of the parties who was arrested for insulting the lady house-keeper at the Catholic parsonage came into Court yesterday morning and plead guilty to willfully and maliciously disturbing the peace, and was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. In the meantime, unless certain alleged facts should prove to be greatly exaggerated, he may be called upon to face a more serious charge. His pal, arrested at the same time, was discharged, it appearing from the testimony that he was guilty of no greater offense than that of being found in bad company.

TENNYSON'S "MAY QUEEN."

Who knows that if the beautiful girl who died so young had been blessed with Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" she might have reigned on many another bright May-day. The "Favorite Prescription" is a certain cure for all those disorders to which females are liable. By druggists.

A. O. U. W.

Four Lodges of the A. O. U. W. have been instituted in Idaho by J. W. Kinsley, Grand Master Workman of the Nevada jurisdiction. The new Lodges are situated at Hailey, Bullion, Shoshone and Ketchum, and another will probably be organized at Boise.

Special Meeting.

Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., Saturday evening Oct. 20th 7 o'clock sharp. Work in the 6th degree. Companions and sojourning Companions invited to attend.

By order of the H. P.

The following members of the Nevada rifle team will likely attend the annual meeting of the California Rifle Association next week: James Crawford, George C. Thaxter, H. G. Parker, Jonathan Saffell, George H. Cowing, J. R. King, and Z. F. Alley.

R. H. Lindsay, attorney for Allan Evans, informs the JOURNAL that the jury stood eight for sane and four for insane on the first ballot, but that three of the eight, Bargaar, Ross and Gouniaz, went to the four, so they stood seven for insane and five for sane when they were discharged.

"CLIMB UP! CLIMB UP!"

The Magnificent Sights to be Seen From the Summit of Mount Davidson.

A party of San Franciscans recently ascended Mount Davidson from Virginia City, and a correspondent sends the San Francisco Call the following account of the trip:

Mount Davidson stands on the west side of the city, 7,827 feet above the level of the sea, and 1,750 feet from the principal street here. We started at 4:15 P. M., reaching the top in 55 minutes. Here, at the very apex, is planted a flagpole (erected by Eagle Engine Company, No. J.) which can plainly be seen for miles around. The sight we beheld while standing by this pole was a glorious one. The naked eye can perceive objects 150 miles distant. The atmosphere is exhilarating. To the north may be seen an unbroken line of hills. To the east, the Carson river winds along like a snake, its shore being lined with willows, relieving the eye from the everlasting sagebrush and rocks for which Nevada is noted. To the south, half hidden by a knoll, the far-famed Sutter tunnel, with its densely populated town, and also Gold Hill, Silver City and Dayton. From there a tall mountain hides from our view Carson City, the far-famed capital of Nevada. To the west, and seemingly right at our feet, is Washoe Lake, a great resort of sportsmen. Thence to the southwest, of Washoe Lake, running northeast and southwest, the Sierra Nevada mountains, uplifting their caps of snow, rise up in a long unbroken chain. Back of the hills, and hidden from view, is the celebrated Lake Tahoe. The Humboldt desert, at the foot of the Humboldt mountains, a dreary waste of sand, 75 miles in length, rises to our view. Even the Austin range, back of the Humboldt, can be plainly seen through the mist. Here and there, dotted along the line of the Carson river are many farms, looking like an oasis in the midst of the rock and sagebrush. Taken altogether, the trip amply repays one for the trouble.

The JOURNAL don't get a cent on the above account. Is it possible that Reno cannot be seen from the top of Mt. Davidson?

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-lyr

MISCELLANEOUS.

IT LEADS ALL.

No other blood-purifying medicine is made, or has ever been prepared, which so completely meets the wants of physicians and the general public as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will dislodge it and expel it from your system. For constitutional or scrofulous Catarrh, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the true remedy. It has cured numerous cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

"Hutto, Tex., Sept. 26, 1882.

ULCEROUS "At the age of two years one of my children was terribly afflicted with ulcers running sore on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore. Physicians told us that a powerful and alternative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendency; and no treatment of any disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results.

Yours truly, B. F. JOHNSON."
